Frequently Asked Questions A-33

1. WHAT IS THE JDS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMME?

The Project for Human Resource Development Scholarship (JDS), funded under the Official Development Assistance (ODA) of the Government of Japan, aims to develop future leaders who will contribute to the socio-economic development of India by applying the knowledge, expertise, and networks they acquire through graduate studies at Japanese universities. The Project also seeks to strengthen the long-term partnership and friendship between Japan and India by fostering a deeper understanding of Japan among its Fellows, who are expected to play leading roles in their respective fields after returning to India.

The JDS Programme is now accepting potential applicants wishing to obtain their Master's degrees at Japanese universities during the academic year of 2027-2029. The 2-year Graduate Programme will be entirely instructed in English. The total number of scholarships for India will be a maximum of 9 per year.

2. WHAT & WHERE TO STUDY: Fields of Study and Universities

The fields of study in the JDS Programme are called Sub-Programmes (target priority areas) and Components (development issues). By obtaining Master's degrees in these fields, JDS Fellows are expected to acquire the skills and knowledge necessary for formulating and implementing social and economic development plans in India. Japanese ODA is intended to promote peace, and subjects that are related to military affairs are excluded.
The followings are Sub-Programme, Component and Corresponding Universities of the JDS Programme.

5. HOW TO PREPARE APPLICATION DOCUMENTS

Before starting to prepare application documents, you MUST read this section of the Guideline carefully. It will help you avoid unnecessary disqualification due to missing or incomplete documents or information.

Download application documents from here: https://scholarship.jds21.com/india/

1. A reference letter (Prescribed Form 1) should be filled by your work supervisor as a Referee. Follow the procedures below:
    a) Download Prescribe Form1 and Instruction for Referees.
    b) Request your work supervisor to write a reference letter with sharing Prescribed Form1 and Instruction for Referees. When agreed, get an email address of your work supervisor.
    c) Login to the application system (The Admission Office, TAO) via https://scholarship.jds21.com/india/, scroll down the list of application documents shown left side and select "Prescribed Form 1".
    d) Choose "request" and put the email address of your work supervisor in "Email address of the requestee" and click the "Request". Then it shows "Request Completed". By doing this, your work supervisor will receive an email from TAO, requesting for a reference letter and instructing how to send it.
    e) Follow up your work supervisor to write a reference letter and send it as instructed by the email from TAO.
    f) After your work supervisor sends the reference letter, you will receive a Confirmation Email.

2. Download Form 2, which needs to be filled by the Cadre Controlling Authority. An official seal is necessary. Scan the filled form and save it as PDF, Max 4MB. Make sure you prepare this first, as you need to submit it online by 31 September for initial screening.

3. Download Prescribed Form 3A, 3B, 3C 3D or 3E according to the university you apply to and fill out as instructed. Save it as PDF, Max 4MB.

4. Scan the biometrics page (with photo) of your valid passport and save it as a PDF in Max 4MB.

5. Prepare your passport-size digital photo in JPEG (150 dpi or higher resolution, 413x531 pixels) in Max 4MB. (Close up of your head and top of your shoulders so that your face takes up 70-80% of the photograph, in sharp focus and clear, showing you looking directly into the camera, in front of a plain background, taken within 6 months).

6. Scan notarized degree certificates and official marksheet (bachelor's degree and above). Save each certificate/marksheet separately as PDF, max 4MB each.

7. All universities accept the Test Report Form (TRF) of the IELTS Academic Module or TOEFL iBT within two years of validity as of May 31, 2027. Scan and save it as PDF, max 4MB.

8. Scan a notarized copy of the Certificate of disability, save it as PDF, Max 4MB.

9. If you wish to apply to The University of Tokyo (GraSPP), download the application guidelines from GraSSP website and prepare all the necessary documents accordingly. Then submit application directly to the University of Tokyo as instructed, in addition to the procedure 1 to 8 mentioned above.

List of Required Documents & Forms

University	Required Documents	Prescribed Form & Details
The University of Tokyo (GraSPP)	Prescribed Form 1 Prescribed Form 2 Prescribed Form 3A IELTS/TOEFL	Prescribed Form 3A - Statement of purpose (max 600 words), mentioning motivation, study plan and career goals - The content of the Form you submit to JDS and what you submit to the university must be the same.
The University of Tokyo (Department of Urban Engineering)	Prescribed Form 1 Prescribed Form 2 Prescribed Form 3B Maths Exam IELTS/ TOEFL or Prescribed Form 4 (filled out by controlling officer at workplace)	Prescribed Form 3B - 2–4-page research plan (Contact faculty supervisor in advance to prepare research plan.) - Attach around 2-page graduation thesis abstract (and master's thesis abstract, if applicable)
Waseda University	Prescribed Form 1 Prescribed Form 2 Prescribed Form 3C or 3D (either one) IELTS/TOEFL	Prescribed Form 3C - Follow template closely - Ensure all required information is included - Delete instructional text before submission Prescribed Form 3D - Max 700 words (excluding footnotes, references)
Hitotsubashi University	Prescribed Form 1 Prescribed Form 2 Prescribed Form 3E IELTS/TOEFL	Prescribed Form 3E - 2000-word study plan including practical experience, study plan, and post-graduation application - Focus on Global Governance track (Foreign Service Sub-program)
Kobe University	Prescribed Form 1 Prescribed Form 2 Prescribed Form 3D Maths Exam IELTS/ TOEFL	Prescribed Form 3D Max 700 words (excluding footnotes, references)

6. HOW TO SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATION DOCUMENTS

1. Access JDS online application system (TAO) from JDS India Official Website (India – The Project for Human Resource Development Scholarship) which is open from 7th September at 12:00 to 30th November 2026 at 17:00.

   Regarding the details of the information that you need to provide through online application system, please refer to the Application Form section at the end of the Guidelines.

2. As a first step, complete the following 2 actions by 31 September 2026.

   i) Fill the online application form of Section 1 to 6.
   ii) Upload Form 2

3. Only candidates who pass the Interview by Operating Committee (OC) need to complete the rest of the JDS application online by 30 November 2026. However, it is strongly recommended that all candidates start preparing necessary documents as early as possible, as it may take long to obtain some of them.

4. Besides uploading the digital copies of the following documents, please submit the hard copies to the JDS Office by 30 November 2026. You may send them by post/courier.

   - Prescribed Form 2
   - Notarized copy of your degree certificates (bachelor and above)
   - Notarized copy of your marksheet (bachelor's and above)

Please note that late submission and/or incomplete application documents shall result in automatic disqualification. Application documents will NOT be returned for any reason.

Once an application has been accepted, it cannot be withdrawn. However, in exceptional circumstances, if the applicant wishes to withdraw the application, a written withdrawal request from the nominating organization must be submitted to the Operating Committee.

7. HOW TO PREPARE A RESEARCH PLAN

Among all application documents, your research plan is the most important document that can determine your admission to the university. Here are some tips on how to prepare a good research plan.

(1) Selecting your research topic

a) Selecting a good research topic is very important to be selected as a JDS Fellow. Checking the following points is strongly recommended:

- Is your research topic in line with Sub-programme/Component of JDS Programme?
- Is your research topic important for the socio-economic development of your country?
- Is your research topic related to your current duties and/or future career plan? It is desirable to discuss your research plan with your immediate supervisors before submitting.
- Does your research topic contribute to achieving your organizational goal?

b) Selecting your graduate school

Read "Graduate Course Outline" in the appendix of the JDS application guideline or visit the website of the graduate school; confirm the requirements and characteristics of the graduate programme, and if your research interest is related to the programme. To apply to the JDS Programme, you can choose two graduate schools from the list of corresponding universities.

c) Check the list of faculty members

Confirm if any faculty member whose field of expertise matches with your area of interest, and if s/he can guide you as a possible academic supervisor. Please note that only professors and associate professors can supervise your research in most graduate schools. Therefore, do not expect a lecturer as your possible academic supervisor.

You are advised to read three or more academic publications of the potential academic supervisor; find out if the potential academic supervisor's research approach is suitable to your research topic and if your research topic would be academically compatible with the interest of the faculty members of the graduate school.

(2) Understanding the Meaning of Research

Before you prepare a research plan, understanding the nature of research is essential. Research is defined as the creation of new knowledge and/or the use of existing knowledge in new and creative ways to generate new concepts, methodologies and understandings. This could include synthesis and analysis of previous research to the extent that it leads to new and creative outcomes[1]. In other words, you have to know that your research findings are new to the world. Document survey by reading past academic papers related to your research plan is important.

You are also recommended to think about the time frame of your research in Japan. Generally, in your first year, you will attend many courses to learn the basic ideas and analytical techniques, academic writing skills, etc., while you will develop your research plan with your supervisor. In your second year, you will conduct your actual research (data collection, analysis, experiment, writing thesis, etc). Your time to complete your research is limited. Reading several master theses in your field will also help you to formulate a more realistic research plan.

In conclusion, selecting a good research topic is crucial, before you start preparing the research plan; read previous academic papers related to your research topic, and confirm that your research findings are new to the academic world; think about the time frame that you can complete your research.

(3) Writing a Research Plan

Faculty members of the graduate school you apply to will read your research plan to evaluate the significance and potential of your proposed research plan. It is suggested that, at minimum, you include the following elements when you formulate your research plan:

a) Statement of the problem

State the critical/problematic situation in your country that you are concerned about from the global or national perspectives, referring to relevant statistics or general information. It is essential that the problem should be related to the JDS component you choose as well as to the organizational goals of your organization.

b) Purpose of your study

Describe the aim of your research, what you want to identify, or what hypothesis you want to prove in your research.

c) Research questions

Describe the question, as well as sub-questions, which you will address in the research to analyse the research topic.

[1] https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/research/researchers/preparing_a_grant_application/dest_definition_of_research

The research question is the key and core of your research plan. It is a question that you will aim to answer in your research paper. Therefore, you should spend more time developing and elaborating on the question.

The research question should:

- Focus on a single problem/issue
- Be specific, clearly defining its concept
- Be researchable using qualitative/quantitative data
- Be feasible within the given timeframe/constraint
- Be appropriately complex requiring in-depth investigation
- Be relevant in terms of meeting the organizational issue/developmental issue of your country.

d) Rationale

Describe why your research deserves to be conducted by showing how critical the present situation is, what kind of positive socio-economic impacts can be given by your research, how you can contribute to the solution of the critical situation with the results of your research, etc.

e) Methodology

Describe what kinds of methods you will apply to your research: either qualitative or quantitative research methods. If you will use qualitative methods, describe who the possible respondents will be, how you will collect primary data, how to analyse collected data, etc. If you will use quantitative methods, describe what data set you will use, where/how you will get the data set, how to analyse, etc.

f) Expected outcome

Describe the expected outcome from your research, and how the results will be utilized after your return to your country.

g) How to ensure liability/accuracy and limit (if you can state)

h) Reference

To prove that your problem statement is not based on your own subjective view/opinion, but general/objective fact which has been statistically proven, or stated in a past publication, you must use existing data or someone else's idea. The source of data and information should be clearly stated. For example,

In your text:

'According to Human Development Report (UNDP 2014),….' or 'Based on Sen's "Entitlement Approach" (Sen 1981a, b), ….'

In the attached references:

'Sen, A. K. 1981a. "Ingredients of Famine Analysis: Availability and Entitlements." Quarterly Journal of Economics, Vol. 95, pp. 433-464.' or 'UNDP. 2014. Human Development Report. UNDP: NY.

i) Bibliography

Present the list of all the sources you used to prepare research plan, including those cited in your research plan as well as those you did not cite.

(4) Checklist before submitting your research plan

After you prepare your research plan, you should check the items below.

- Does your research plan address important policy questions for your country?
- Will your research results contribute towards solving or clarifying policy questions important for your country?
- Does it provide convincing reasons why the research questions described in your research plan are important or will be important in the future? (Try to answer these questions by checking policy discussions and documents carefully and by finding the important policy questions yet to be resolved.)
- Does the research plan show who will benefit from your research results?
- Will your research help you to participate more effectively in the development process of your country, particularly in the policy-making process, after you graduate? (Include information about your current responsibilities in the government)
- Is your research plan focused on a specific issue rather than being vague?
- Is your academic background strong enough to implement your research plan?
- Is your job experience sufficient to execute your research plan during your study?
- Can you contribute to the enrichment of the programme of the graduate school through your research?
- Is your research plan written within the word count limit and met the Format requirements with Applying University?

(5) Prohibition of Plagiarism and AI Use

Whether you intend to or not, plagiarism DOES affect your selection result, because it is an act of academic dishonesty and a breach of academic writing ethics.

You are prohibited to "copying & pasting" text from articles published on the internet, magazines, books, or any other materials created by others without proper citation. If you wish to use another person's ideas, findings or work, you must provide complete and appropriate reference to the original sources. Otherwise, your research plan may be regarded as plagiarism, which could result in disqualification from the selection process or rejection by graduate schools. You are strongly encouraged to verify your research plan using a plagiarism detection tool before submission.

In addition, the use of generative artificial intelligence (AI) tools for drafting, writing, revising, or generating substantive content of the research plan is strictly prohibited. Applicants must prepare and submit research plan that is entirely their own original work. If the use of AI-generated content is confirmed, the applicant will be immediately disqualified from the selection process.

8. IMPORTANT RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR JDS FELLOWS

The JDS Programme has rules and regulations that each Fellow should comply with. Before arriving in Japan, JDS Fellows are required to pledge that they will comply with these rules. The major rules are:

- ✓ The JDS scholarship will be cancelled if a Fellow fails to arrive in Japan on the designated date. Late/early departure to Japan will not be accepted under any circumstances.
- ✓ In case you would like to bring your family (spouse/children) to Japan, JDS Fellows are recommended to invite them three months after arriving in Japan, as well as after the date of enrolment to graduate school. Subsequently, all procedures required for dependents to accompany Fellows in Japan shall be carried out by the Fellows/dependents themselves.
- ✓ JDS Fellows must NOT violate the laws of Japan and/or regulations of the graduate school.
- ✓ JDS Fellows are NOT allowed to enter a doctoral course proceeding consecutively from the completion of their Master's degree. Application for doctoral courses during the JDS fellowship is prohibited.
- ✓ JDS Fellows are not allowed to drive motor vehicles while in Japan.
- ✓ JDS Fellows are forbidden from undertaking part-time work or paid internships.
- ✓ JDS Fellows MUST return to India immediately upon completion of the master's programme.
- ✓ Upon obtaining Master's degree, JDS Fellows should come back to India and work for the Government of India according to its regulation and contribute towards the further development of India.

9. BENEFITS TO BE PROVIDED TO JDS FELLOWS

The Scholarships and other allowances as of September 2026 are shown in the table below:

Benefit	Frequency	JPY
Round-trip economy class airfare (Tickets are provided by JDS)	Once for a trip to Japan and once for return to India	Approx. 146,931
Travel insurance (Arranged by JDS)	Annual	477,810
Admission fee (Directly settled by JDS)	One time	282,000-300,000
Tuition fee (Directly settled by JDS)	Annual	535,800-1,376,000
Summer Preparatory Program (Directly settled by JDS)	Once (Only University of Tokyo (GraSPP))	300,000
Scholarship	Monthly after arrival in Japan	147,000
Traveling and Seminar Allowance	Monthly during school enrolment	30,000
Outfit Allowance	Once, upon arrival in Japan	100,000
Housing preparation allowance	Once	224,000
Research Support Allowance	Once	150,000

Kindly note that your dependents may accompany you to Japan, but their travel costs and expenses will NOT be covered by the JDS scholarship.

Features of the University

- The University of Tokyo (UTokyo) was established in 1877 as the first national university in Japan. Since then, UTokyo has been a leader in research and higher education and renowned for its international level of advanced study.
- UTokyo has a strong connection with the Japanese government. It is the top university to produce leading public policy practitioners.
- The UTokyo India Office is in New Delhi. It serves as a base for the AKAMONKAI (UTokyo alumni association) of India, which holds alumni gatherings and other events.

Features of the Graduate School

- About 50% of the student body comprises international students from over 30 countries (both advanced and emerging economies). Student backgrounds are equally diverse: those who have just completed undergraduate studies and professionals from various public and private sectors.
- We accepted officials from the Reserve Bank of India and the Ministry of Finance, among others, to study at GraSPP.

Features of the Program

- While GraSPP does not have an academic adviser (mentorship) system, two program directors are assigned to offer guidance and advice on learning and research beyond individual course enrolments. Teaching assistants provide support on learning methods in many subjects. Students writing a thesis or research paper are supervised by a faculty member with expertise in the subject of students' choice.
- Master of Public Policy, International Program (MPP/IP) offers two policy streams: Economic Policy, Finance, and Development (EPFD) and Public Management and International Relations (PMIR). Both streams require the completion of core courses in law, political science, and economics as a foundation for enhancing practical skills. In addition, students must take topic courses to acquire advanced expertise, practical training courses for real-world application, and case studies to improve policy analysis skills.
- Considering practical orientation, MPP/IP offers internship opportunities at public institutions (e.g., OECD, Asian Productivity Organization), think tanks (e.g., Asian Development Bank Institute), and private companies. The responsible faculty members judge whether to recommend the applicants for internships through document screening and interviews, match them with internship sponsors, and give advice to students.
- The program provides an environment for learning alongside Japanese and international students (including young and mid-career students) who are expected to be future leaders.

Curriculum

Required credits

Course subjects

- Examples of subjects related to India's development issues (public policy / economic and industrial policy / international relations) are as follows. This list may include subjects not offered in the academic year 2026.

<Public Management>
Policy Process and Negotiation
Governance and Development
Politics and Public Policy
Introduction to Public Management
Japan's Modernization Experience and Its ODA Policy

<International Relations>
Introduction to International Politics
New Dimensions of Security in the Risk Age
Strategic Communications and International Politics
Transformation of Warfare and Technology
Global Political Economy

<Economic Policy>
Foundation Courses of Economics
(Microeconomics for Public Policy, Macroeconomics for Public Policy, Statistical Methods)
Economic Analysis of Public Sector
Energy Security
Foundations of Development Economics
Topics on Modern Japanese Economy
Labor Economics
Monetary Policy

<Case Studies>
Case Study (Japanese Foreign Economic Policy)
Case Study (Leadership in Global Institutions)
Case Study (Basic Cases of International Trade Law)
Case Study (GraSPP Policy Challenge: Global Innovative Public Policy Solutions)

<Practical Training>
Presentations and Discussions on Public Policy Issues
Social Design and Global Leadership

Training in research and analytical and presentation skills

- During the orientation at enrolment, academic staff explain course registration procedures, while faculty members guide course enrolment and research ethics. A math placement test is conducted upon enrolment. Students are encouraged to take "Mathematics for Public Policy."
- Many topic courses, practical training courses, and case studies introduce report writing and presentation to evaluate student performance.
- We encourage students to enrol in such practical training courses as "Essential Academic Skills" and "Introduction to Academic and Policy Paper Writing."
- Students can earn credits by writing a research paper and/or a thesis, which requires oral examinations for evaluation.

Academic Schedule

Academic calendar 2026

Student Support System

- Our staff members possess working-level proficiency in both spoken and written English. International student advisers are tasked with facilitating various aspects of daily life, such as securing housing, applying for scholarships, assisting students in enrolling in courses at the Japanese Language Education Center, and addressing other related concerns. They also offer individual counselling to students in need.
- The GraSPP Student Council supports student life and organizes events and activities that foster interaction among students from diverse backgrounds and help build an inclusive GraSPP community.
- Our student lounge comprises self-study and discussion spaces, and a multi-purpose reflection room designed to accommodate diverse needs, including religious observance and childcare-related activities such as breastfeeding.
- As part of a university-wide initiative, the Counselling Support Research and Development Center offers consultation services on psychological problems, mental health, study strategies, career planning, and employment. The Health Center provides free health checkups. The International Education Support Office also offers multilingual consultation (in Japanese, English, and Chinese) on various aspects of life, study, cultural adaptation, career paths, and other related matters. They provide round-the-clock services for hospital referrals, medical consultations, and interpretation services over the phone. The Japanese Language Education Center offers three types of Japanese language courses: general, intensive, and short-term.
- The student cafeteria accommodates Halal and vegetarian meals.

NOTE for Applicants

In addition to submitting an application through the JDS Online system, applicants wishing to enroll in Graduate School of Public Policy (GraSPP), The University of Tokyo, must also submit a separate application directly to GraSPP in accordance with the GraSPP application guidelines at their own responsibility. GraSPP conducts its own admission screening independently from the JDS selection process.

Features of the University

- The University of Tokyo was established in 1877 as the first national university in Japan. Since its establishment, UTokyo has been a leader in research and higher education as the most difficult university to enter in Japan. It is also renowned for its international level of advanced study.
- The UTokyo's Faculty of Engineering has overseas exchange partnerships with eight universities in India. (IIT Kharagpur, IIT Kanpur, IIT Delhi, IIT Hyderabad, IIT Madras, IIT Bombay, IIT Roorkee, and IIM Bangalore.)
- The University of Tokyo India Office is in New Delhi. It serves as a base for the AKAMONKAI (UTokyo alumni association) of India, which holds alumni gatherings and other events.

Features of the Graduate School

- The educational and research objectives of the department are to develop human resources who will acquire systematic knowledge of Urban Engineering and its application techniques, and who will become experts in Urban Planning, Urban Design, Urban Transportation Planning, Urban Analysis, Environmental Design, Urban Environmental Engineering, Urban Water Systems, International Urban Environment, and Urban Management, and to contribute to the sound development of national land and regional society from a global perspective, taking into account the diversity of regional climates and social cultures.
- As of May 2023, there are 8 Indian students enrolled in the master's program and 24 in the doctoral program at the Faculty of Engineering.
- As of February 2024, there are 107 master's students majoring in Urban Engineering, 26 of whom are international students receiving instruction in English.

Curriculum

Features of the Curriculum

- The Urban Planning Course offers study in areas such as Urban Land Use Planning, Urban Design, Urban Transportation, Collaborative Community Design, Housing and Urban Analysis, Environmental Planning and Design, Urban Information and Safety Systems, and International Development and Regional Planning.
- The Urban Environmental Engineering Course covers areas such as Urban Water Systems, Water Environment Technology, Environmental Public Health Engineering, Urban Sustainability Science, Environmental Risk Management and Quality Control Technology, and Regional Circulating and Ecological Systems.

Project Research / Master's Thesis

- Each student is assigned a primary advisor (or one or two secondary advisors, depending on the laboratory system). The theme of the master's research is set in consultation with the supervisor and the student.
- In addition to close research guidance through regular meetings with the supervisor, students have opportunities to expand their knowledge in the field through seminars held in each laboratory.
- Twice a year, at the end of each semester, students present the progress and results of their research in front of all faculty members (and students) of the Urban Planning Course or Environmental Engineering Course and answer questions. This is an opportunity for students to obtain advice from faculty members in other laboratories and to broaden their knowledge of other students' research.
- The research areas of the Urban Planning Course faculty members include Urban Land Use Planning, Urban Design, Housing and Urban Analysis, Urban Information and Safety, International Development and Regional Planning, Urban Transportation, Collaborative Community Design, Environmental Planning and Design, Spatial Planning and Design, Social Safety System., etc.
- The research areas of the Urban Environmental Engineering Course faculty members include Environmental Risk Management and Quality Control Technology, Water Environment Technologies, Urban Water Systems, Regional Circulating and Ecological System, Urban Sustainability Science, Social Ecological System, Environmental Public Health Engineering, and Sewerage System Innovation, etc.

Academic Schedule

Academic Calendar 2023
https://www.due.t.u-tokyo.ac.jp/english/edu/timetable/

Student Support System

(i) There are weekly meetings in each laboratory, close thesis guidance with academic advisors, and a tutor system to support learning and daily life.

(ii) The Graduate School of Engineering's International Promotion Division has an International Student Support Team and an International Exchange Team, which support international students. There is also a Japanese language class. All of our staff members speak English, and we also have full-time staff who speak other languages.

(iii) International student advisors advise on visas, housing, daily life, private scholarships, etc. Additionally, counselling is provided to all newly admitted international students during the first semester.

(iv) The student cafeteria accommodates Halal and vegetarian meals.

(v) The Hongo Campus has a Japanese education program for international students majoring in the Graduate School of Engineering and a Japanese education program for spouses of international students.

NOTE for Applicants

- You need to take Math Exams.
- The master's program in Department of Urban Engineering is not a taught course, but a research-based course, which puts more focus on in-depth research and writing. Therefore, before applying, you need to 1) identify the most suitable supervisor who can guide your research and 2) contact and consult with him/her to write a research plan (Prescribed Form 3B). To find a supervisor, check the list of faculty on the following page. When you contact him/her first time, please CC your email to the JDS Projct Office (india.jds@jds21.com) which enable JDS to assist you.
- In addition to a research plan, you need to submit a 1-2 page abstract of your graduation thesis (and a master's thesis abstract if you have one). See Prescribed Form 3B.

Features of the University

Waseda University was founded as Tokyo Senmon Gakko (Tokyo College) in 1882. Since its foundation, the university has proactively opened its doors to international students. The University is now known around the world as one of the top universities in Japan. It has produced eight prime ministers so far, and its alumni are widely active in various fields, not only in Japan, but also on the world stage. The university continues to create new eras and culture through education and research activities of a global standard.

Features of the Graduate School

The Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies (GSAPS) was founded in April 1998. The mission of GSAPS is to assess and analyse the Asia-Pacific region from a broad analytical perspective.
GSAPS is a cross-disciplinary school that has "International Relations", "International Development/ Policy Studies", and "Area Studies", and is one of the few educational institutions in the world that offers an interdisciplinary International Relations programme for training students in three specializations.

Features of the Programme

In the Programme of MA in International Relations, students focus on one area of three specializations – "International Relations", "International Development / Policy Studies", and "Area Studies", but at the same time can take courses in all three areas.
GSAPS offers many courses that are especially useful for the study of effective policy administration in India. GSAPS provides guidance to JDS fellows from India in the following ways. In the field of economic policy, GSAPS helps JDS students to acquire the skills necessary for conducting practical research, analysis, and the construction of policy recommendations so that they can contribute to the fostering of international economic ties with India's neighbouring countries in South Asia, China, and emerging economies in Southeast Asia and Northeast Asia.

Features of the University

Since its foundation in 1875, Hitotsubashi University has been a prestigious national university located in Tokyo, Japan. Over the years, it has expanded its research and teaching to cover all fields of the social sciences. Today, it enjoys a well-deserved reputation as one of the top research universities in Japan. In 2019, it was accredited as one of the few outstanding designated national universities specializing in the social sciences.

Features of the Graduate School

- About 45% of the capacity of international students are accepted every year.
- Our alumni work in public administration, diplomacy, international organizations, and private sectors. Moreover, the network of alumni is spreading across Asia and contributing to regional cooperation within Asia.

Features of the Program

- A unique master's program specializing in diplomacy and international relations.
- The program has accepted mid-career students from Asian countries and beyond with practical experiences in foreign service and a profound awareness of policy issues, as well as the enthusiasm to play active roles in various areas of the international community.
- The program aims to develop those who are engaging in foreign services in Asian countries and beyond, into higher-informed and skilled professionals in terms of the ability of analysing, formulating and implementing foreign policies.
- Students in this sub-program can complete the Master's program at IPP, by taking courses taught in English.

Curriculum

Features of the Curriculum:

- As part of the curriculum, we offer courses taught jointly by faculty members from different academic fields, such as international relations, economics, and law.
- Faculty members are in the fields of International Security, Nuclear Non-Proliferation, Nuclear Disarmament, International Politics, International Relations in East Asia and Japan's Foreign Policy, International Law, International Criminal Court, Conflict, Peace Studies, International Institutions, etc.
- Flexibility: Because interests of JDS students are diverse, depending on policy priorities of their countries, Foreign Service Sub-program has more flexibility in curriculum requirement although the necessary credits for graduation remain the same.

- Small-sized classes: Most of the classes are offered in a small group and emphasize discussions and presentations over lectures. It makes it possible for students to have candid and thorough discussions. It helps instructors well grasp needs of each student.
- Action-oriented: It also emphasizes group works. It helps students acquire sense of teamwork, importance of communication, and true friendships, which is important to establish good working relationships.

Project Research / Master's Thesis

Considering the student's work history and research field, the program will determine supervisor and then students start joining the seminars assigned to their academic advisors. Until they complete their master's program, they attend one seminar a week and receive research guidance from their academic advisors. Each seminar has about four students from each grade and about eight students in total. In addition to guiding thesis writing, supervisors also provide course registration guidance and can provide detailed guidance. In addition, many of the supervisors have worked with various governmental, inter-governmental, and non-governmental actors from across the world, and they understand the backgrounds of JDS students when providing guidance.

Features of the University

Kobe University is an academic institution that has continued to encourage forward-looking and independent thinking in working towards our ideal of creating 'harmony between theory and reality'. Based on our spirit of 'integrity, freedom, and cooperation', we seek to build upon our rich academic traditions of pursuing the truth, social implementation, and bolstering people's knowledge and merits. In this way, Kobe University has shored up the foundations of society and revitalized industry and the economy while contributing towards the resolution of various issues facing the world.

In our education, we place great importance upon fostering the diversity, internationality, excellence and adaptability that are necessary to thrive in a new sustainable society. Kobe University will develop its knowledge resources using AI, IOT, big data analysis and fundamental information technology, producing graduates who are able to create new values and implement them into society. To this aim, Kobe University shall defy the boundaries between academic fields, collaborate with society, and promote practical learning, value creation, and data science education that incorporates the knowledge, skills, and techniques required for industry-government-academia co-creation. In our research, we emphasize autonomy, harnessing intellectual and creative strength to pursue the truth through our fundamental research, as well as working together with local communities on applied research.

Features of the Graduate School

The Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies (GSICS) aims to prepare talented young people to work in international fields and, through their work, to contribute to the international community. At GSICS, we believe that mutual understanding and respect for human rights is essential for peaceful global co-existence and thus strive in our education, research, and community activities to further this goal. In particular, we endeavour to provide students with the multidisciplinary background and expertise that will help them both as researchers and practitioners in the field of international cooperation.

Features of the Programme

To better meet the requirements of a changing world and to make our unique multidisciplinary academic environment available to as many students as possible, the Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies (GSICS) developed a Master's Program in English for international students where all instruction is conducted in English. As rapid globalization encompasses more and more of the world, English has become an essential aspect of international cooperation in Japan and many other countries. Moreover, in recent years, the Japanese government has given increasingly high priority in its ODA policy to the development of human resources. The Program in English seeks to meet the needs of both the international community and Japan. It takes an interdisciplinary approach, emphasizing not only the study of basic areas such as economic development, political development, international law and international relations but also the ways these disciplines intersect and relate to one another. It is hoped that graduates of the program will become experts in their fields and will contribute toward the development of their countries and international society.

A. Either passport is acceptable.

Q. How do I know if I passed the process of document screening or not? Can I call the JDS Project Office and ask?

A. All applicants who passed or did not pass the screening will be informed by JDS Office. Any inquiries for the result of the selection by applicants are NOT accepted.

Q. Can I have my application documents back if I did not pass the selection?

A. No. All application documents will not be returned.

Q. If I were selected for the JDS Scholarship Programme, what allowance can I receive?

A. As to the allowance you will receive in Japan, please refer to Benefits.

Q. What type of accommodation will I have in Japan?

A. Students can move into either university dormitories or public/private apartments, depend on the availability. In the case of JDS Fellows of other countries, they tend to choose public/private apartments, because the university dormitories are often highly competitive to be allocated, and also the term of staying is usually 6 months or one year only.

The rent of the public/private apartments varies from region to region. The rent in suburbs of Tokyo is usually more than ¥60,000 for a single room, and more than ¥100,000 for a family room.

Q. Can I work in Japan?

A. No, you are not allowed to have any job or work, except the teaching or research assistantship which is provided by your accepting university while paid internships are allowed. However, your spouse can work in Japan.

Q. Can I drive automobiles in Japan?

A. No. You are not permitted to drive cars or motorcycles.

Q. Can I stay in Japan after the completion of the JDS Scholarship programme in order to continue my education or be employed in Japan?

A. No, you may not. You must return to India after obtaining a master's degree by the JDS Scholarship Programme.

Q. Can I come back to India or travel overseas for a short-term while I am staying in Japan?

A. Yes, you return to India at your own expense as long as it doesn't impact your university work. If you travel overseas for any other reason than thesis research purposes (i.e., private travel), your scholarship will be suspended from the day of departure from Japan until the day of return. You are allowed 60 days thesis research travel for up to 60 days (that is without scholarship suspension).

Q. Please tell me about the university's support system.

A. It depends on the university in which you are enrolled. Normally, teaching assistant/s and tutor/s will support your studies and academic life. Also, most the universities provide some kind of support system for international students in their university life, from daily life consultations to mental health care.

3. Family Related Matters

Q. Can I bring my dependents and stay with them in Japan?

A. Yes, you can stay with your dependents (spouse/children) in Japan, but it is recommended to invite them after 3 months from your arrival in Japan and after the date of enrolment to your graduate school, unless your university prohibits you from doing so. You should be responsible for all the procedures to bring your dependents to stay in Japan. The JDS Programme will not cover the costs necessary for your family: e.g. travel insurance, air tickets, living costs, and VISA. Your family should be taken care of under your responsibility.

Q. Can my wife/husband work in Japan?

A. Yes, your spouse may work during their stay, up to 28 hours per week.

Q. Can my wife/husband drive automobiles in Japan?

A. Yes, she/he can. Your spouse needs to obtain an international driver's license. The validity of the international driver's license is one year, and she/he needs to be careful about the expiration date of the license.

Q. Will the JDS Programme or universities offer Japanese language course to my family members?

A. No, but we will introduce you to an international exchange centre in each university area which offers Japanese classes at a reasonable price.

Q. About how much will it cost for a nursery school?

A. It depends on local government, and child allowance by the local government will be calculated according to your income. As an example, the child allowance of one child for scholarship recipient is ¥10,000 in Hiroshima city.

Q. How much will be the health insurance for family members?

A. National Health Insurance Fee varies according to the local government you reside in and the size of your family. Fee is calculated based on the income of previous year. So, for example, JDS Fellow in Chiba city with a spouse pays about 2,500 yen per month.
